

Terra Concordia — Release Notes

What's new and fixed in the latest versions

Version 1.2.0 — Launch Version

Terra Concordia: Civilizations in Harmony was officially released on July 31, 2026. This is the launch version (1.2.0) of the digital game.

Version 1.2.0 — July 31, 2026

About the game

Terra Concordia is an indie, eurogame-style digital game of civilizations where the goal is to earn the most victory points by the end of the game — while keeping the harmony so that sustainability does not collapse. Explore hexes, build, raise wonders, gather resources, master technology, recruit workers, wield the greatest influence and win the highest prestige.

What's new in this version

- New Reference Guides — complete and faithful to the manual, available at any time during play.
- Balance Improvements — adjustments to cards, costs and scoring for fairer, more strategic matches.
- Smarter AI opponents — rivals that trade, raise wonders and plan each turn better.

Game modes

- Single Player vs AI — face up to 3 automated opponents, across 3 difficulty levels.
- Solo Mode — 10 scenarios with their own objectives and challenges.
- Multiplayer (2–4) — local/online matches, including the Diplomacy variant.

Game content

- 4 civilizations, each with its own ability and style.
- 142 cards: Construction, Technology, Trade, Influence and more.
- Wonders, public and secret objectives, and a technology tree.

Sustainability

- Each round, the world charges the price of expansion — keep the ecological balance or risk global collapse (and your own civilization's).

Features and accessibility

- Built-in Reference Guides and Tutorial, PDF manuals (PT/EN/ES).
- Full interface in Portuguese, English and Spanish.
- Colorblind mode and other preferences, background color presets and adjustable soundtrack.

Closing

Thank you for playing Terra Concordia. Enjoy your matches!